PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—President Harding awoke shortly after 5 o'clock having had almost a normal amount of sleep. His rest which was described as the most nearly natural of any during his illness, began before 11 o'clock last night.

Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer.

(Associated Press.)

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1—An official statement issued at 10:10 a. m. today by the five doctors attending President Harding said Mr. Harding still was much exhausted, but maintains his normal bouyancy of spirits."

At that hour the chief executive, according to the bulletin was breathing with less labor than previously and there was but little cough.

The statement follows:

Is Fairly Comfortable.

"The president is fairly comfortable this morning after a few hours of sleep. His breathing is less laborred and there is but little cough. The lung condition is about the same as yesterday. He is still much exhausted, but maintains his normal bouyancy of spirit. Small amounts of food are being taken regularly and there is regular and satisfactory elimination. The temperature is 99 degrees; pulse 114, respiration 40. While progress is being made, every care is necessary to assure freedom from further complications.

Has Restful Night.

An informal statement issued at 8 a. m., today by General Sawyer, said that Mr. Harding had spent "a very restful night and his pulse at that hour was 114, temperature 99 and respiration 40."

Secretary Work of the interior, one of the physicians in attendance upon the president, was one of the first to enter the sick chamber early today. After a few minutes there he returned through the corridors to his room, conversing with those who inquired concerning the chief executive.

Has Nothing To Add.

"There is nothing to add to the statement General Sawyer has given to you," Secretary Work told the newspaper men, adding that "every symptom in the case pointed to a most 'pleasing progress on the part of the president."

There was an understanding today among members of the Presidential party that the chief executive and Mrs. Harding would return direct to Washington, leaving San Francisco as soon as the physicians would give their permission for the president to begin travel. The route east was expected to be via Ogden, Utah, Omaha, Neb., and from Chicago to Washington.

May Leave Next Week.

In the event improvement continued and there was no relapse, it was said, there was reason to believe the start might be made in about a week.

Some of the president's advisors yesterday indicated belief that it would be best for him, during convalescence to spend sometime visiting with Mr. William Wrigley, Jr. on Catalina island, but it was understood latest that there was no possibility that the trip to Catalina would be made.

APPEAL FILED IN 'LIMITED DIVORCE'

Mrs. Anna Preuss Says Husband Accused Her of Shamming Sickness.

Decree of Lower Tribunal Forbade Either Party to Remarry.

Accusing her of shamming sickness, hitting her with his fists, refusing to visit her in a hospital after she underwent a serious operation, and other acts of cruelty alleged by Mrs. Anna Preuss against her husband, Frederick A. Preuss, led the district court of Madison county to grant her a "limited divorce," with the custody of all but one of the six minor children, $100 per month alimony, and possession of the farm where the family had lived for many years.

From this decree Mrs. Preuss has filed an appeal to the state supreme court. The decree of the lower tribunal forbade either party to remarry, and it also gave Preuss the right to visit the children every Sunday. Mrs. Preuss was instructed to receive and treat him courteously on the occasion of such visits. He was given the custody of the eldest minor son. Four children are grown and have left the parental roof.

One of the things which Mrs. Preuss claimed in her petition was that in April, 1919, her spouse called her a vile name and told her she couldn't ride any more in the auto he was accustomed to drive—a seven passenger touring car. He also advertised in the papers that he would not pay her bills, she said.

Preuss was reputed to have property valued at $60,000. He contended that his wife's father had promised to leave him the farm if he would keep it up and improve it, which he did, but instead the land was willed to his wife. His version of the domestic difficulties attributed them in part to his wife's furnishing a 22 year old daughter and a son aged 17 with large sums of money which they spent foolishly and extravagantly.

The couple was married in 1897. Evidence at the trial showed that they failed to get along harmoniously for many years preceding the divorce suit.

MORE SPEEDERS THAN YEAR AGO

More people were arrested in July, 1923, for speeding, than for any other offense, the total being sixty-nine. Fifty-six automobile drivers were arrested for violating the two hour parking ordinance. Twenty-two boys were arrested the first few days of the month for shooting firecrackers. There were but seven arrested on charges of intoxication.

In July, 1922, only twenty-four were arrested for speeding. The fact that three motorcycle officers are now working may account for the increase in numbers, although fines now are apparently heavier for that offense than previously.

Twenty-two were arrested in 1922 on charges of disorderly conduct, with but four arrested this month on that charge.

BUTLER ACCUSES MAYOR DAHLMAN

OMAHA, Aug. 1.—Municipal Judge Dineen and Mayor Dahlman today said they welcomed action by Police Commissioner Butler, who yesterday said he would ask Governor Bryan to oust them.

Mayor Dahlman said that from the number of complaints to him about administration of the police department he thought "Mr. Butler will have many things to explain."

Butler charged that "all efforts of the police department to clean up the city" were "blocked by Judge Dineen or Mayor Dahlman."

No Developments In Probe of Fire

There were no new developments Wednesday in the investigation of the fire Monday night at the Fisk wholesale tire office, thought to have been incendiary, according to L. J. Butcher, deputy state fire marshall. A wooden pail, with a time clock arrangement set to strike three matches against a strip of emery paper and ignite some oil soaked paper, was found planted in the McPherran tire shop in the same building, Mr. Butcher said.

CAMP READY FOR NATIONAL GUARDS

Expect 1,500 to Mobilize at Ashland Rifle Range. August 6 to 20.

Governor Bryan, General Duncan and Probably Pershing Will Visit.

Plans are practically completed for the National Guard encampment, which will be held at the rifle range at Ashland, August 6 to 20, according to Adjutant General H. J. Paul. It is expected that at least 1,500 guards will gather there at this time. The work to be taken up will include general instruction, target practice, maneuvering and athletics. A four day instruction school, starting Wednesday, August 1, will be held for the field and staff officers as a preparation for the work to be taken up during the camp. A number of enlisted men will also be included in the school. The work of the school and camp will be in charge of H. J. Paul.

The reserve at Ashland includes 750 acres on the banks of the Platte river, and mess halls and kitchens have been constructed on the grounds. It was planned to have a swimming pool constructed but the work was delayed. It is estimated that the improvements will cost approximately $36,000 when completed. Of this, $15,000 will come from the state appropriation for the maintenance of the guard and the remainder from the national fund set aside for the purpose.

A target range running from 200 to 3,000 yards make its possible for the guards to put in the required 50 per cent of camping time on the range. The size and arrangement of the range will make it possible for all men to be handled with ease.

Governor Will Visit.

One day of the encampment will be set aside for an athletic tournament in which different companies will compete for prizes. Governor Bryan will spend one day reviewing the troops. Also General G. B. Duncan, of the Seventh corps area, will spend some time reviewing the work of the camp and that of the past year. It is expected that he will be there August 9. No definite date has been set for the governor's visit.

General John J. Pershing is expected to arrive in Lincoln some time between August 17 and 21 and an invitation has been extended to him to visit the encampment.

Attending the encampment from Lincoln will be the battalion headquarters company of 134 division, company L, Headquarters company of the Thirty-fifth train division, headquarters companies of the veterinary, supply and laboratory sections of the 110th medical unit.

JULY IS RECORD BUILDING MONTH

Largest Number of Permits Ever Issued Here In That Period.

Total Construction Cost Reaches $507,215 Mostly for Business.

The largest amount in building permits ever issued in July was recorded at the city engineer's office Wednesday when the month's report was filed. The total for the month is $507,215 of which $185,465 represents the money spent on residences and $321,215 for business improvements.

There were 130 permits issued during the month, the large majority being for residence construction. The largest amount spent on any one residence during the month was $10,000. There was one for $9,000 and the third in the list was for $8,000. The large number of garages built at a cost of from $100 to $500 considerably pulls down the residence total.

The largest single permit taken out was that for the Lincoln General hospital at 2315 South Seventeenth, to be built at a cost of $202,000. A permit issued to W. J. Assenmacher to build a garage, on the southwest corner of Fourteenth and M streets, was next. Business permits totaling $315,000 were issued in one day.

The city's fees on the more than half million dollars' worth of property amounted to $251.65.

Miss Croft's work will be preventative more than remedial and she will attend to all cases in which children are concerned that are reported to the Human society.

ASSEMBLY OPENS THURSDAY NIGHT

Walker Jubilee Singers On First Program of Twenty-third Annual Meeting.

More 1,500 People to Camp On Grounds During Ten Day Period.

The twenty-third annual Epworth assembly will open Thursday evening and continue for the following ten days. The opening program will consist of a concert by the Walker Jubilee singers. This company of eight clever colored singers has entertained audiences throughout the country and promises to be one of the best, according to C. A. Fulmer, president of the assembly.

Over 1,500 people will camp on the grounds, it is expected, and already the greater part of the tents and cottages have been reserved. It is probable that there will be some fifty tents and seventy-five cottages occupied by campers from all parts of the state to attend these programs.

Some of the features of the program are the Kilties, a famous Scotch band, in concerts during the afternoon and evening of August 6; the Omaha association quartet; Professor Pamahasika and his pets; the great patriotic American play, "The Great Commoner," a Civil war drama and many other equally interesting companies and speakers.

Edward Schmidt will have charge of the playground and sports. There will be tennis tournaments, boat races and many other sports and contests. "Kindernook" is another important feature. Here small children will be taken care of while parents enjoy the program.

Miss Pearl Sherlock will have charge of the recreation of children under twelve.

A Sunday school conference will be held at 9:30 each morning under the charge of W. G. Bishop. Dr. William Stidger of Detroit, Mich., is the assembly pastor and will conduct services every morning at 11 o'clock.

The wells have all been tested by the county officials and the water has been found pure.

REBUILD VIADUCT TO FAIR GROUNDS

Holdrege Street Crossing Improved by Rock Island at Cost of $18,000.

The old viaduct over Holdrege street is being rebuilt by the Rock Island company, the approaches are being widened and within two weeks the paving construction will begin. The estimated cost of this improvement is $18,000. This will give Lincoln an ideal approach to the state fair grounds from the east. The work will be completed by fair time in September.

A number of flashlight systems have also been recently installed by the company which will afford more protection to the public at the dangerous crossings. Crossing flagmen are maintained thus affording double protection. Work is also being done on the main crossings which when finished will enable the traffic to be taken care of in better shape.

The Rock Island is making preparations and endeavoring to get authority for the construction of two additional team tracks which will hold fifty-five cars and an automobile unloading track, holding thirty cars, with derrick facilities, at a cost of approximately $12,000.

The recent purchase of eighty locomotives, 500 box cars, 500 automobile cars, 500 coal cars, 250 refrigerator cars and 50 steel suburban cars will add much to the service in taking care of the Lincoln business.

The company is also spending near $80,000 in reconstructing bridges in the vicinity of DeWitt and Clatonia.

Labor Shortage During July Is Report of Bureau

During the month of July the federal and state employment bureau placed 877 men, according to the report issued by Charles Boles, head of the bureau at Lincoln. The records show that there was a decided lack of men available during the month for there were only 885 workmen compared with the 1,034 calls.

Of the number placed, 660 men were directed to the farms and the rest to city employment. Due to the harvest, more men were handled in July than any other month. Transportation was the greatest drawback in placing men. Many county agents carried men to their districts in autos. Men are still being directed to the Dakotas.

Williams Is Given Fine Promotion

E. H. Williams, city passenger agent for the Rock Island railroad, has received notice of his promotion to be city passenger agent for that road at Topeka, Kansas.

The appointment is effective immediately, and Mr. Williams expects to leave to take up his new duties. News relative to his successor in Lincoln has not been received here.

Mr. Williams has been a resident of Lincoln for twenty years, during which time he has been connected with the Missouri Pacific, the Northwestern Burlington and Rock Island lines.

LIGHT RATES ARE REDUCED

Lincoln Traction Company and Lincoln Gas and Electric Light Company Make Cuts to Correspond With Charges Made by Municipality.

SMALLER USERS WILL BE MOST BENEFITTED

Fixed Rate Slashed From 60 to 40 Cents. Change Becoming Effective September 1—No Profit in Selling at New Prices.

The Lincoln Traction company and the Lincoln as & Electric Light company have announced reductions in rates for electric current to correspond with the rates made by the city of Lincoln, the reduction becoming effective September 1. Smaller users of current will be most benefitted by the cut, the fixed charge being reduced from 60 cents to 40 cents, and the minimum charge of 3 cents per kilowatt hour applying to all users of over 500 k. w. hrs., instead of those using 2,000 or more as heretofore. This includes practically all users.

While officers of the two corporations refused to make statements for publication, it was said by one of these, who did not care to have his name used, that the municipal plant was steadily taking customers away from the private corporations and the latter were forced to meet the city rate or go out of business and have their lines junked. There will be no money in selling electric energy at the prices which have been announced, it was asserted, and it was further intimated that ultimately the private corporations will be compelled to abandon the field.

Private Lines Noncompensatory.

The officer mentioned said that at this time the corporations have no recourse other than to meet the rates which the city is making. The former have built lines into all parts of the city, only to have the municipal plant extend its lines into the same territory, picking off the customers of the private companies here and there and making their lines noncompensatory. The Traction company has $900,000 invested in such lines, it is stated and of course they cannot be abandoned.

It was stated by the officers of the two companies that the reduction of their revenue on current by reason of the announced reductions will amount to from 20 to 30 per cent, though they could not off hand say what it would amount to in dollars in the course of a year.

The fact that the city has no taxes to pay, it was asserted, enables it to sell current at rates which the private companies cannot profitably meet.

The rates which are to be abandoned September 1 are: Fixed charge, 60 cents; first 25 hrs., 7 cents; next 25 hrs., 6 cents; next 450 hrs., 5 cents; next 500 hrs., 4 cents; next 1,000 hrs., 3 1-2 cents; all above 2,000 hrs., 3 cents.

The rates to become effective September 1 are: Fixed charge, 40 cents; first 10 hrs., 5 cents; next 30 hrs., 4 cents, next 460 hrs., 2 1-2 cents; all above 500 hrs., 3 cents. These rates apply to the amount of current used during a month.

SEES NOTHING BUT PROGRESS

Gary Says Everything Points to Uninterrupted Forward Business Move.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—From the standpoint of the manufacturers this country should be well satisfied with its present business situation, according to Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation.

There is nothing to indicate an interruption to progress and prosperity in the immediate future, Mr. Gary said yesterday, after announcing that in the three months ending June 30, the company's operating profits were $47,853,131, more than $5,000,000 in excess of unofficial estimates.

BRITISH CABINET STILL IS FACING GREATEST CRISIS

Holding Conferences Rated as Most Important Since Close of War.

Would Deal Separately With Germany Yet Hold the Friendship of French.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 1—The British cabinet resumed its sessions today in Downing street with the prospect that the proceedings would develop into one of the most important conferences of British ministers since the war.

The attempts to formulate a British policy to be adopted in the reparations settlement with Germany will be considered today and tomorrow. The ministers are expected to remain almost continuously around the conference table until Prime Minister Baldwin is ready to make his statement tomorrow night on the status of the reparation negotiations in the house of commons.

It is understood the government is encountering the greatest difficulty in framing a policy which will allow single handed action with the Germans and at the same time ensure the continuance of the entente with the French and the Belgians.

If Great Britain decided to act alone full publication of all the recent negotiations may be expected immediately.

Four Germans Sentenced.

DUSSELDORF, Aug. 1—Prison sentences ranging from five years to life imprisonment were imposed upon four Germans by the French court-martial at Werden yesterday for listening in on French military telephone lines by means of secret taps at Dortmund.

They were Anna Johnson of Dannebrog, Mary Clifton of Omaha, and Ethel Schmacker of Ogallala. The last two were received at the reformatory only a few days ago.

By running away they have made themselves liable to a penitentiary sentence of one to ten years each. At York, they were held under indefinite commitment subject to parole whenever circumstances and their behavior would warrant.

There has been considerable complaint as to the brilliance and blinding glare of the lights of many Lincoln motorists.

Turns Over Assets of Failed Lincoln Bank to the State

Edward M. Warner is directed in an order issued by District Judge Morning Wednesday to turn over all assets of the American State bank of Lincoln to the department of trade and commerce. The new banking law states that this action shall be taken in regard to all failed institutions by August 7, and Mr. Warner based his motion to be relieved of the receivership on this statute. In the two years since the American State bank failed, Mr. Warner has realized on assets and turned back more than one-half of the original $247,000 draft on the guaranty fund.

ZONING MEASURE TO COME UP FOR SECOND READING

Council Advances Ordinance and Will Act Upon It Finally In Few Days.

Lincoln's zoning ordinance will come up for the second reading Monday afternoon at the council meeting unless the present plans of the city commissioners are changed. Commissioner John Wright suggested that the ordinance be read and passed passed on third reading Monday, being under the impression that it had been read twice. Investigation proved that it had come before the the council only once.

It would be possible for the council to complete both the second and third readings and enact the ordinance into a law on Monday but it is thought that it might appear as though the council was trying to "railroad" it through.

The commissioners are also disposed to wait until Commissioner George Dayton reutrns from his trip to the coast. Mr. Dayton is expected at any time.

The general impression of the members of the council is that the time is ripe for the passage of the ordinance. Sentiment, they believe, has been steadily growing stronger in favor of it and the people wish no more delay.

Jump Due to Condition of Crop—Carry-Over Is Very Small.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Cotton advanced sharply in the local market today after the issuance of the government report which came as a surprise. The condition of 67.2 was below expectations, July advanced from 21.20 to 22 cents in a few minutes.

Smallest Carry-Over.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—The smallest carry-over of cotton into a new cotton year since the south became an important producer of the staple was announced in the annual report issued today by the New Orleans cotton exchange.

The world's carry-over of American cotton was placed at 2,573,000 bales against 4,879,000 a year ago. Consumption of American cotton during the year ending yesterday was placed at 12,631,000 bales against 12,329,000 during the preceding year.

BANK ACT NOT TO APPLY TO OLD BUSINESS

Law Limiting Discounts and Bills Payable of State Banks Relates to Transactions On Or After August 3, Knudson Rules.

DEPARTMENT RETAINS DISCRETIONARY POWER

Obligations Incurred Before New Act Became Effective Not Contemplated to Fall Within Meaning of the Law.

In an official ruling promulgated Wednesday, Trade and Commerce Secretary Knudson gives notice that the new law, effective August 3, which limits the total rediscounts and bills payable of any state bank to an amount equal to the capital stock and surplus (except by special permission of the department), will not be construed as applying to obligations incurred before the new act becomes operative.

Mr. Knudson does not believe it was the legislature's intention to work a hardship on banks which now have an excess of bills payable and rediscounts, nor correspondent banks that have heretofore accepted such paper. He therefore holds, until otherwise convinced:

"That this amendment to the banking laws does not refer to existing rediscounts and bills payable, but applies only to such rediscounts and bills payable as may be issued or renewed from August 3."

The above ruling was promugated after consultation with the state legal department, which advised Secretary Knudson to that effect.

Relative to the granting of special permission, Mr. Knudson announces that this can be done in the department's discretion as to rediscounted paper, but that the department is not authorized by law to allow the issuance of any bills payable over and above the capital stock and surplus, and this will not be done, he says.

A bank will not be liable, he says, where an officer personally makes a loan, takes a note of the borrower, and sends it to a correspondent bank. This practice has been frequently resorted to in the past when a bank itself did not have funds on hand to accommodate a customer or a business friend of its officers. In such cases, the note given personally to the president or cashier was treated as a rediscount for which the bank assumed liability to its correspondent. Under the new ruling, Mr. Knudson will not recognize such a liability. The correspondent bank which accepts notes of this kind must look to the bank officer as an individual, and not to the bank itself, to stand behind them.

Another regulation just issued is that a note given to a bank by one of its customers who deposits to his own credit the proceeds of the loan it represents cannot be used as a rediscount, if it is endorsed without recourse and no other agreement is attached to the note or in existence.

The Reckless Age

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR.

Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

Aline Foster, a member of the gay younger set, decides to become engaged to Charley Tyne, not because she loves him, but because they seem so well suited to each other. Aline's idea of an engagement is that she must be free to do as she likes, which includes flirting with other men, and Charley is not at all satisfied to have things this way.

CHAPTER VII.

A New Interest.

Into Aline's gay heedless young life, a life which up to this time she had made her own to do as she liked with, there had come a new interest. The night of Helen Bradley's party, Aline had flirted with Mason Long merely because he was a new man and seemed interesting.

To say that she flirted with him does not mean what it is generally supposed to mean. She did not put herself out for him, she did not let him know that he was the one man in the room who interested her peculiarly, in fact her manner toward him was rather more bored than usual, but this was camouflage. Girls in the younger set have flirting down to an art. They don't sigh and languish, they go out after a man, and usually land him.

And so when Helen confided to Aline that Mason Long was to be there, "Mason Long, the writer, my dear, you must have seen his work," Aline determined to make him aware of her presence, and she succeeded with apparently very little trouble.

He had asked her to dance, and when the orchestra had stopped, he had not released her. They had strolled out to the punch bowl, and when the music had started again, her eyes answered the query in his. It was in this way that she had danced four dances straight with him and had sat out two more, which fact had been the cause of Charley's jealousy.

Nevertheless, although this had happened, and although Helen, in an ecstatic confidence while the two girls had repaired to Helen's room to powder their noses, had told Aline delightedly that "Mason was crazy about her, he hadn't paid any attention to any one else," Aline wasn't satisfied.

There had been something about Mason Long's attitude that had vaguely troubled her. Somehow she couldn't believe that he was actually as bowled over by her as he seemed to be and as his attentions would lead any to believe.

During the time that they had been together, she had brought out all her little tricks one by one. She had conversed seriously with him on topics that for the most part did not interest her and although he had seemed interested, and although his eyes rested appreciatively on her exquisite face, she had known with that strange woman's intuition that can sense so many things that he was not stirred. She felt rather that he was studying her and giving very little of himself during the process.

But she was too clever to show any annoyance. Her beautiful face had remained as calm and unperturbed as though one man or another meant nothing in her life, and she was glad, despearately glad, when other men cut in on her dances. She wanted Mason Long to know that she was popular, that she was more in demand than any other girl in the room whether it meant anything to him or not.

And so, when the day after her talk with hCarley, Mason called her on the telephone, Aline was thrilled almost exultant. She could hardly keep her voice steady when she answered him, and it was the most difficult thing in the world to maintain her usual blase attitude toward life. Never before had she felt this way about any man. She had always accepted invitations as her due, but now as she hung up the receiver, she sat absolutely still for a moment, her eyes shining, her lips parted softly.

At that moment, she was not Aline Foster, a product of the reckless age, no one who could have seen her then would have thought of her as blase. She was an excited little girl, thrilled at the prospect of an engagement with a man she liked more than ordinarily well. And yet, five minutes later, as she sat before the mirror of her dressing table, her face had resumed its sophisticated smile, and she was planning the game that she would play tomorrow evening when she was to have dinner with Mason Long.

TWO MILLIONS WALK TO WORK

Tram Strike In Jersey Ties Up Car Lines In Many Towns.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Two million workers in New Jersey municipalities walked to work this morning.

The strike of 6,300 motormen and conductors and shopmen, employed by the Public Service railway company, went into effect at midnight. The strikers demand a 30 per cent wage increase.

Not a wheel turned on the trolly company's entire system, Thomas McCarty, president of the corporation said this morning. The city officials in Jersey City, Newark, Camden, Paterson, Elizabeth, Hoboken, Dunellen, East Orange and scores of sammel communities took command of the situation in their localities. They put automobiles, motor trucks busses, even wagons into service in an effort to relieve the situation.

The strike affected approximately 1,500,000 workers in about 5,000 manufacturing plants, including the central establishments of many of the nation's greatest industries. Another 500,000 workers use the trolleys daily, commuting to New York.

The opening of the strike was without disorder.

That the tieup will continue over a long period was the prediction at both the offices of the street car company and the Union.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho—U. S. Senator Borah in an address last night urged recognition of Russia and declared President Harding had marked the way for establishment of a world court for permanent international peace.

Are Women Overworked

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factories, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved it is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.—Advertisement.

Life's Golden Hours

Think how much, with women, they depend on beauty. And how much beauty depends on complexion.

Does it not seem impossible that any woman should neglect that charm?

Two aids to beauty have for ages held supreme place. They are palm and olive oils. Modern science combined them in Palmolive Soap and made them more effective. That soap has become the leading toilet soap of the world.

And for millions it is keeping youthful bloom.

Now, less neglect

We can remember—many of us—when most women of 30 started to grow old. Not so today. Women keep their youth. They care for their complexions.

And more women do that with Palmolive Soap than with all other ways together.

Where it excels

Palmolive Soap was perfected by experts who had spent a lifetime in the study of facial soaps.

The basic oils are ages old, but never were they made so efficient. They are embodied in a penetrating soap, which goes to the depths of the pores. It cleans the skin of all its clogging matter, then softens and restores it.

A soap which has gained such world-wide fame deserves a test from you. And once you know it you will always use it.

So always

3,000 years ago, in Cleopatra's time, Egyptian beauties got their complexions through palm and olive oils.

2,000 years ago, Roman beauties used them.

Science never has found, and never will find, anything else to compare with this. Or a better way to apply them than in Palmolive Soap.

Palm and olive oils —nothing else—give nature's green color to Palmolive Soap.

ROCK ISLAND TO TAKE OFF TRAIN

Will Substitute Three Day Freight Service Instead of Daily.

Shippers, Customers and Railroad Men Hold Conference Here.

A three day local freight service on the Rock Island through Lincoln between Fairbury and Council Bluffs has been proposed in place of the present daily service both east and west. The road officials state that due to the slack condition of shipping over this line it has been found necessary to cut expenses by taking off one train.

It was feared by the local shippers and their customers between the two terminal points of Jansen and Richfield that this would interfere and delay shipments out of Lincoln on the days which no train would run out of Lincoln to the respective points. To investigate and clarify this difficulty a meeting of the Rock Island officials, R. M. Joyce, chairman of the transportation committee of the chamber of commerce, W. S. Whitten, secretary of the chamber of commerce and a number of prominent local shippers was held Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce.

E. D. Hungerford, district superintendent at Fairbury, explained to the satisfaction o fthe shippers' association that on the days when the freight would run west to Jansen the shipments from Lincoln would be received in this district the same as they are with the present schedule and to overcome the lapse on the following day when no local will come to this territory from Lincoln a car will be sent up on the through freight at night to be worked back on this route that day. In this way shipments out of Lincoln will be received every day and the difficulty feared will be overcome. The same system will work on the other end between Lincoln and Richfield.

J. S. Shubert, divisional freight agent from Kansas City, promised the shippers that satisfaction would be guaranteed.

The new plan will go into effect Monday, August 6.

ROTARIANS HONOR NATIONAL OFFICER

Frank Lamb, Third International Vice President, Addresses Combined Clubs.

Says Railroad Rates on Coast So High Must Ship By Water Through Canal.

More than three hundred Rotarians representing the Lincoln, Beatrice, Falls City, Crete and Fairbury clubs met at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday night for a dinner given in honor of Frank Lamb, third vice president of the Rotary International. Mr. Lamb is returning to his home at Hoquiam, Wash., from a meeting of the Rotarian officials in Chicago and is stopping for four days in Nebraska during which time he expects to visit the Omaha, Columbus and Grand Island clubs.

In speaking on the subject, "By-products of Rotary," Mr. Lamb stated that the object of Rotary was the training of men along lines which will enable them to render the greatest possible service both along business lines and social and public activities.

To become efficient in these things a man must possess certain qualities which he outlined as humility, reverence, open mindedness, tolerance, leadership, co-operation, appreciation and character. "The man possessing these qualities will be of the utmost value to his city, state and nation," he stated. "When Rotarians link their code of ethics to their customers and to their community, then will Rotary achieve its ideal," he continued.

Mr. Lamb also spoke of certain financial matters of Rotary International, explaining the manner in which the sum of $585,000 would be spent during the coming year. He was introduced by Verne Hedge, Lincoln, governor of the nineteenth district.

Mr. Lamb, who is in the lumber business, in speaking of business conditions said that shipping rates of the railroads were so high that a great percent of the western coast products were shipped to the Atlantic by water rather than by rail and was of the opinion that rates should be cut to the lowest possible marginal profit. He stated that the fear of a shortage in pulp wood which is used in the making of paper was unfounded as there is enough of this wood in Alaska to supply the world with paper for years to come and what really is needed is the development of the paper manufacturing facilities.

During the course of the evening the representatives of the four smaller clubs were introduced by Adrian Newens, chairman, and short talks were made by the presidents of each of these including Claude Fordyce, Falls City; John Kees, Beatrice; Frank Moon, Fairbury; and Dick Jacobson of Crete.

A large watermelon was presented to the Crete delegation, twenty-nine being present out of a total membership of thirty-four.

HARDING PASSES CRITICAL STAGE IN HIS ILLNESS

Feeling of Relief Comes Over Attendants as Decided Improvement Noted.

Physicians Declare Disease Under Control and Patient Is Recovering.

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—President Harding today seemed certain of recovery, barring improbable developments of new complications in his illness or the equally improbable increase of the present ones.

Brigadier General Sawyer, chief of the staff of physicians on the president's case, still was standing by his statement of last night that the crisis had been passed and that the president is well on the road to recovery.

One Cause of Anxiety.

Added to this was the declaration from an authoritative source that the only reason for concern over the president's condition was because the patient was the president of the United States and not because any new symptoms or likelihood of any.

"Since we have our toxin well under central, I feel safe in saying that we have passed the peak load of trouble," was the way General Sawyer summarized the situation in an informal statement. "I don't want to be too emphatic about it, because we always face complications. But I feel that the crisis is over and that the president is well on the road to recovery."

Others of Same Mind.

This feeling was manifestly shared by all of the other physicians and by members of the president's immediate party. Mrs. Harding who has been at the side of her husband throughout this fight as she has been in all struggles he has waged, was understood to be even more optimistic and the president himself, was convinced that the battle had been won, for he was quoted by Secretary Work as having said late yesterday: "Work, I think we are almost out of the woods."

Is Extremely Cheerful.

The president's own feelings were expressed at a time when his condition was not so satisfactory as it became as the evening came on and in turn grew into the night. He was said to be extremely cheerful when he awakened about 9 o'clock last night from what Dr. Sawyer described as the best and most natural sleep he had since his illnes began. He was awake only a short time and then dropped back into a sleep that was described as quite different and exceedingly more satisfactory than the nervous sleep of Monday night when all the physicians were agreed that his condition was grave.

Increase Nourishment.

A steady increase in the amount of nourishment being taken by the president was another cause for optimism. His diet, as prescribed yesterday and continued today, consisted of eggnog, fruit juices, milk toast and soft boiled eggs. The nourishment obtained by the president it was said, was quite sufficient for one in his condition. The decided turn for the better was indicated in every possible way last night. General Sawyer went out for a walk about 9 o'clock—the first time he had been outside the hotel since the president was brought here Sunday. Redent turning, he spent half an hour or so in the president's room and then retired. The head nurse also took advantage of the change in her patient's condition and obtained some sleep. Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, assistant to Dr. Sawyer, alone remained in the president's room or within call throughout the night, Mrs. Harding having retired about midnight.

Sawyer Issues Statement.

General Sawyer, after his last visit to the president's room and before going to bed, issued a brief tatement as to Mr. Harding's condition. This noted a pulse of 116, temperature 100.2 and respiration 44 and ended by saying that he was "resting comfortably."

Announcement was made shortly before midnight that no more bulletins would be issued until after the morning consultation today at 9 o'clock.

The betterment of the president's condition, however, did not lead to any serious discussion of the future program of the party. Whatever may be recommended Mr. Harding will have final decision and there is no intention of placing any such matters as that before him until he gets back his strength. William Wrigley, Jr., presented to Secretary Christian an invitation to the president and Mrs. Harding to spend the days of the former's convalescence at Catalina, Mr. Wrigley's estate.

Maternity Tracts Being Distributed

Activities of the state child hygiene division in charge of Mrs. C. H. England, during the month of July included the mailing of 11,-555 bulletins on the subject of childbirth and preserving the health of mother and child. A large number of these were mailed direct to mothers, while packages of them were sent by parcel post to librarians for local distribution. This required a large outlay for postage, but in future the division will be enabled to send out its printed matter, as well as official letters, under a United States mailing frank, and the state will not have to bear any postage expense.

"CALLING" SENATOR BROOKHART.

Former Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, publisher of a large farm journal, did a very courageous thing yesterday.

He "called" Senator Brookhart of Iowa, and he did it in a fashion that the Iowa statesman is not likely to forget.

"There is a conspiracy among certain factions," Mr. Meredith declared "to misrepresent and discourage the farmer. Just what lies back of this pernicious scheme remains to be seen, but one of the big purposes is to make political capital out of this deceit."

Mr. Meredith has said something that has needed to be said for a number of years Possibly Senator Brookhart, Senator-elect Magnus Johnson, LaFollette, and some of the lesser lights believe what they say to be true. It is not a question of integrity or sincerity. Results in this instance, as in everything else, are paramount, and so far as results are concerned, nothing so far put forward by any of these men should occasion encouragement. On the contrary, their preachments constitute themo st deceit ever practiced upon an electorate.

If Senator Brookhart and his associates can by legislative enactment set aside all economic factors, they will have accomplished something which has heretofore proved impossible. That is precisely what they propose to do. They propose to establish a fictitious value for farm products by law. Their promises and their pledges have been eagerly grasped by a sorely-tried agricultural class. There remains yet the day of disillusionment.

Mr. Meredith objects to a misrepresentation of facts, even for the purpose of making political hay. Here are his words:

"If Senator Brookhart had asked for the facts from the department of agriculture, he would have found that on July 1, 1922, the price of corn per bushel on the farm was 62.2 cents and on the same date this year it was 86.5 cents per bushel. The farm price of winter wheat slumped from 93 cents to 87 cents per bushel. Oats increased from 77.3 cents to 42.5 cents per bushel, and barley from 52 to 56.7 cents per bushel. These prices were taken as of July 1, and are the farm prices, not the prices at marketing centers, from which the transportation charges have to be deducted.

"The department would have also furnished Senator Brookhart with the production in bushels of each crop, and their value given above. These figures show that the total value of these principal grain crops on July 1, 1922, was $3,183,682,000 while on July 1, of this year the total market value at the farm of the same grain crops was $3,683,506,000 or $499,824,000 more than last year.

"Every time Mr. Brookhart or anyone else seeks to lead the public to believe the American farmer is ruined when such is not the fact, he is destroying the credit of the farmer, and his integrity as a business man just as false rumors maliciously or selfishly circulated may start a run on a sound bank."

Mr. Meredith is not a politician, but is in business, publishing one of the largest farm journals in America. He demonstrates his courage by refusing to permit this misrepresentation of the farmers' condition to continue, for in attacking Brookhart, he is antagonizing a popular and influential man.

He is performing a service which entitles him to great credit.

The time has come when it is imperative that the farmer and the business man shall view conditions as they actually exist. There has been a persistent effort to represent the farmer as nearer bankruptcy today than when the bottom fell out of the prices of agricultural products a year ago. It is not true. The farmer is infinitely better shape than twelve months ago. Conditions are far from rosy, but the grade which he must make this year is not so steep as the one which faced him a year ago.

Why do politicians refuse to abide by the facts.

A COUNTRY OF SIN AND SENTIMENT.

A writer in the London Evening News draws the conclusion "that America is a large country surrounded by sin and sentiment.'

"It is inhabited in the east by unscrupulous but extremely and enormously successful men, who devote their nights to squandering in cabarets their ill-gotten gains of the day before. In the west the bad men rob stage coaches and banks, shoot sheriffs and their partners in crime and spend a good deal of time rolling on the ground in attempts to gouge each other's eyes out.

"The north is peopled by bearded scoundrels, who go there to escape from the law, to steal mining claims, and to menace lonely girls snowbound in log cabins. The south is noted for cacti, sand and halfbreeds. The last named are no particular vice. They are just bad.

"The rich women of the east are noted for the scantiness of their costume, their uncharitable attitude toward other women, and for their remarkable bedrooms. These are of enormous size, elaborately decorated, and have at least one telephone, and an easy egress for heroines and ingress for heroes."

This is the picture which the writer draws after viewing American films, in London moving picture houses. It is manifestly a delicious bit of British satire, done with a master hand. But as a caricature of American movies, it is manifestly unfair. Apparently the writer has never had the opportunity of seeing a real American movie. There are many things to be criticised in the movies, but there has been much improvement in the last three years. Now and then a motion picture is to be seen, which nearly proximates life.

A few pictures imported from the continent have been shown in Lincoln. If those seen here are a fair sample of the others, we'll be content with American movies.

STATE TAXES 13 PER CENT LOWER.

Relief for the overburdened taxpayers of Nebraska has been partly accomplished by the state board of equalization, under Governor Bryan's leadership, to the extent of a 13 per cent cut in state taxes, amounting to $935,000, or an average of $10,000 for each county in the state. This start toward lowering the cost of government will be welcomed everywhere.

If now the various county, municipal and school taxing boards all over the state will do their part, the load can be further lightened. The aim should be to eliminate every unnecessary expense and useless frill. What the people want, and what they are entitled to, is the simplifying of governmental machinery coupled with sensible economy.

It is greatly to the credit of the state board of equalization that state taxes were reduced in the face of a large deficit in current funds left by the preceding administration, and of the legislature's refusal to do away with needless and duplicated activities by repealing the code law. Only the determination of Governor Bryan and his colleagues to hold down expenditures made it possible to achieve the 13 per cent decrease.

That this reduction was made with a sincere desire to help the taxpayers, and not merely for political effect, is evident from the fact that it comes in a year when no election is to be held. If the governor and his associates had wished to capitalize their action in a political way, they would have waited until next year and then put it through with a big flourish of trumpets.

The state board comprises three democratic and two republican officials, all of whom are entitled to credit for helping to bring about the tax slash.

Incidentally, while the railroad companies did not get their assessments cut down, as they had asked, they will benefit from the reduction in taxes along with the rest of us.

The eyes of the people are now on the local taxing bodies to see whether or not they will follow the example set by the state board of equalization.

THE BAUER FARM SALE.

The sale of the John Bauer farm west of Lincoln on the Emerald-Lincoln paving for $218 per acre, at a time when agricultural produce was bringing comparatively low prices, demonstrates that good farming land will command excellent prices.

The Bauer farm is one of the finest in this state, and will compare very favorably with land in any section of the United States. The soil is rich, black loam. Year in, and year out, it has yielded excellent crops irrespective of weather conditions. It has always produced some corn regardless of drouth. The splendid soil found on it, coupled with the excellent improvements which have been placed there by the owner, accounts for the fact that the 240 acres brought $52,000 when conditions were decidedly adverse to the sale.

But there is another factor in the sale, which the farmer may study with profit to himself. Unquestionably the fine paved road leading past the Bauer farm increased the value of the land considerably. The fact is important because at this time there has been a disposition to question the value of permanent roads, and an inclination to deride the benefits accruing to adjoining lands as a result of the building of splendid highways.

Anyone familiar with the tract of land will join in saying that the purchaser made a good buy. The farm is worth every dollar which it brought. It is encouraging in view of the general hysteria of the times to find here and there instances of men who recognize that Nebraska farms still constitute the finest investment to be had in the United States.

ZONING A HEALTH MEASURE.

A bulletin issued by the Chicago School of Sanitary Instruction directs attention to the health features of city zoning measures.

In the smaller cities of the middle west this problem of health, resulting from the overcrowding of rooming houses, has not become acute. But in the larger centers of population in the eastern states, and in the older cities of Europe, the matter of health is of first importance.

What has taken place in those centers, built before much attention was given to the matter of health and sanitation, will undoubtedly occur in the middle west if cities continue to grow as they have in the last twenty years. The largest single factor in recommending zoning for American cities is the rapid drift of population to the cities. Unless provision is made at this time for enforcing necessary health measures, the situation prevailing in the eastern states, and in Europe, will become general throughout the United States.

"The significance of zoning," the bulletin points out, "with respect to health results first, from the fact that in outlying districts the congested areas of bad housing which characterize the older central portions cannot be duplicated; but that there must result from the zoning requirements much more open space and less height of buildings and consequently a far better opportunity for the circulation of air and the purifying influence of sunlight."

It is hardly necessary to point out the salutory results of the provisions restricting factories and industrial establishments to certain sections of the city. The elimination of smoke, dust, objectionable noises and odors, dust and flies, spells better health for the community. Under the circumstances it is hard to understand the opposition of zoning from those it is designed to help more than any other single class.

Tit for tat. On the same day the Nebraska state board of equalization denied the request of the railroads to have their tax valuation lowered, the railroad executives turned down the proposal to reduce freight rates on wheat.

Four Missouri young people were killed in a crossing crash Sunday. Joyriding? No, returning from Sunday school.

We often wonder why people continue to put up "No Smoking Signs." Hardly anybody seems to believe in them.

Comment by the Press

Voting Upon War.

The real way to help the world along the road of lasting peace is to let the people who do the fighting and pay the bill determine whether a war shall be waged Thomas R. Marshall has written to Edward K. Bok, who offered a $100,000 prize for the best solution for preventing further conflicts.

Mr. Marshall proposes the alteration of the law of every civilized nation so that no war can be fought until a referendum has been taken among all men and women above 18 years old in the countries affected; and that if war is resolved upon by the popular vote, a sixty day interim shall ensue before hostilities begin.

The plan sounds plausible—at first. When you were a boy you used to be told to count ten before you acted upon the impulse to fight. The difficulty was that when you were angry enough to fight you forgot to count and wouldn't have counted if you had thought of it. It would be hard to conceive a nation with cause for war waiting six months until its opponent got thoroughly prepared to resist.

There is another slight difficulty that might arise. Nationals are to go to war only when a general referendum is in favor of war. Japan votes to go to war with the United States. The United States votes not to go to war with Japan.

In that case the majority might rule, but it would have to fight just as hard as the minority.—Danville Commercial News.

More Truth Than Poetry

I have an idea—a lovely idea; I must hasten to push it along;
Whoever refuses to think as I'm thinking is foolishly, wickedly wrong;
I want everybody locked up or deported
who isn't in line with my thought;
My precious idea is most patriotic—the accent belongs on the "ot".

I have received a momentous, a thrilling conclusion, and things should be done right away
To reward every man who is proving his fitness by spelling his name with a K!
We only who claim that enoling initial are worthy of trust or esteem;
Let others be quickly put under suspicion,
no matter how loyal they seem.

It is time for us K's to be gaiantly wearing the badge of a league of some sort
For the purpose of menacing those who are daring to speak of a mole as a wart;
Let men whotrace back less than six generations be warned that we have them inmind;
Who dares to deny that the nation's foundations are shaken by inism and their kind?

We only are loyal in all kinds of weather;
I've said it myself, and I know!
Let us hasten, therefore, to be getting together, and let our authority grow!
We can if we will; why wait or be doubtful?
The nation will crumble away,
Unless it is saved by the wise and good people whose surnames begin with a K.

The Farmers' Remedy.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 30.

To the Editor of The Lincoln Star:

There is only one way to get good government and that is to get men to the front who possess real principles. A president in name only is not enough, he must possess statesmanship, he must be a man who sticks to the helm until the ship is saved. Every man representing the national or state government, from the president down to the smallest officeholder should first do his duty and then take his vacation if he feels that he needs one.

Mr. Harding thinks he can blindfold the people by running around through the country. He says he was raised on the farm and is now fifty-six years old and is not in need of any dope on farming. It is all bunk. He is a man for himself and for no one else. I don't think he stuck to his chair in the white house long enough to make an impression of anybody.

The farmer feeds the world. Who is more needed than the farmer and producer? And yet he is the most abused person anywhere. But whose fault is it? No one but the farmers themselves are to blame for their own plight. They must form an alliance just like all other concerns are doing. They must help each other to preserve their grain and not allow it to go to those sharks who will put a gold edge on it after they get it, and make the consumer pay dearly for it. Bread is stronger than the dollar. The farmer has the bread, let him hold it until he can get enough for it enable him to produce it. The farmer holds the sword in his hand and all he has to do is swing it.

Some one made the remark that to stop wheat raising to a certain extent would bring the price up but we have no over production. The sharks are out buying up the wheat and that is what is bringing it down. After they get it you will begin hearing a different story. It is exactly like the recent sugar shortage.

The farmers and producers know best what best grows on their land crops must be changed from one thing to another to make it most productive. You can't regulate your crop according to the market. The farmer has a big risk to run on everything. There is only a half a crop of wheat this year and no reason why prices should be down. It is nothing else than speculation.

The farmer is a big fool and has been for a long time. He doesn't get his head up but digs and scratches all he can out of the ground. Then along comes the speculator and gives him the prices which make the farmer cry. He sheds a few tears but away goes his crop and he don't stop to think what he could do for himself. The farmers must look out for themselves. The government cannot help them.

If the farmer gives his stuff away he can't blame the fellow who gets it for a song. He must hold his stuff and not give it away but he says he must sell it to pay expenses. Why not go to the local bank and borrow enough money to keep them going for a while, give their grain as security. Everybody carries insurance on grain so it makes the very best guarantee to the bank.

I say, mortgage your grain if it has to be and not give it away. It is no disgrace, it is business and will also stop speculation, because the farmer will get what he should for his produce. It will cut the speculator out because the consumer can't buy when prices get too high for use. The speculator has to buy low enough so he can sell again. He knows well enough not to take a big risk. Consequently he would have a slippery field to work in and give up speculation.

Wheat is worth about eighty cents a bushel and flour sells at $1.80 for a forty-eight pound sack. A bushel of wheat will make all of a forty-eight pound sack of flour so you see what the middle man takes.

Railroad Earnings Are Not Guaranteed

A common impression exists that railroad earnings are in some way guaranteed by the Government. This is not a fact.

The railroads were paid for the Federal Control period a fixed rental and were given an option for continuance of this basis for months thereafter. This arrangement expired August 31, 1920, since which time nothing even resembling a guarantee has been in effect.

Under the Constitution a railroad has always been entitled to earn a fair return upon its property devoted to the public use, the percentage which constituted such fair return being a question for determination by the courts.

The transportation act says:

"In the exercise of its power to prescribe just and reasonable rates, the Commission shall....adjust such rates so that carriers....will, under honest, efficient and economical management....earn an aggregate annual net railway operating income equal, as nearly as may be, to a fair return upon the aggregate value" of the common carrier property, giving "due consideration....to the transportation needs of the country and the necessity....of enlarging such facilities in order to provide the people of the United States with adequate transportation."

For the two years ending March 1, 1922, such fair return was fixed at 6 per cent. Since then it has been reduced by the Commission to 5.75 per cent.

In no year however have the railroads secured the fair return contemplated by the Act, as the following will show:

Year	Percentage Actually Earned
1920	0.33
1921	3.3
1922	4.14

It is entirely clear, therefore, that the law in no sense guarantees the earnings of the railroads. If it did, the Government would owe the railroads more than a billion dollars for deficits in 1920, 1921 and 1922.

Since January 1, 1923, the earnings of the railroads as a whole have been better than for the same period in any of the three preceding years, but the rate of return is still lower than the Interstate Commerce Commission has prescribed as reasonable.

The Transportation Act has not been the cause of increases in railroad rates. One of the authors of the Act has said:

"Rates have advanced simply because the cost of maintenance and operation has more than doubled since pre-war days while railroad rates, taken as a whole are now about 54% higher than they were before the Government took over the railroads at the beginning of the year 1918."

The price of transportation can only be reduced as the cost of transportation is reduced and the railroad's cost of living has increased in like proportion to that of the individual. Every effort, however, is being made to reduce it.

Constructive suggestions are always welcome.

President.

THREATEN TO CUT ELECTRIC SUPPLY

Nebraska Power Company Restrained From Darkening Twenty Towns.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 1.—Twenty towns in middleeastern Nebraska and southwestern Iowa faced possibility of their electric supply being cut off Tuesday midnight until District Judge Hastings issued a temporary restraining order in favor of the Omaha and Lincoln Railway and Light company.

The order is directed against the Nebraska Power company which supplies the Omaha and Lincoln company with the electric energy which it resells to towns and villages.

According to the petition requesting the order, the Nebraska Power company threatened to shut off its supply to the Omaha and Lincoln company at midnight because the latter company declined to agree to a raise in rates, not provided for in its contract.

Towns which were threatened by the shutdown include Ralston, Papillion, Springfield, Louisville, Gretna, Cedar Creek, South Bend, Murdock, Alvo, Avoca, Elmwood, Millard, Murray, Union, Nehawka, Plattsmouth in southeastern Nebraska and Glenwood, Silver City, and Mineola in southwestern Iowa.

All the towns mentioned, it was said, depend on the electric power to operate their water systems and a shutdown would have presented a serious situation.

The second crop of alfalfa is now being put up and will be a fair crop although a little light in places. Old timers say that the corn crop never looked better although there are still many fields that were planted late that are far below average.

Stock shipments from here have been rather heavy for this time of year.

Large Sum Loaned On Farming Lands

OMAHA, Aug. 1—More than $1,500,000 was lent to farmers in Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Wyoming this month by the Federal Land bank of Omaha said President Hogan. This is considered a record for the same month since the organization of the land bank in 1917.

"This does not denote a bad condition among the farmers," Mr. Hogan stated. "But shows the farmers again have confidence in present conditions and are branching out. The funds are being used to make improvements as well as furnish immediate cash to enable them to care for their on-coming crops."

ALASKAN NEED IS BETTER HIGHWAYS

Breede Tells Of Visit to the Northland and Impressions Gained.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 1.—Instead of expending $67,000,000 on its railroad in Alaska, more real benefit would have accrued to the settlers had the government put the money into the construction of highways, Adam Breede, editor of the Tribune, told the business men of Hastings at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

The population of Alaska is no greater now than when the territory was bought by the United States, continued Mr. Breede, who has just returned from there. Fishing is the chief industry, and not mining, which is second, while fox farming is becoming an important business. One man who opertaed a shooting gallery in Alaska some years ago, with an average daily gross income of $3, sold $35,000 worth of blue fox furs last year and refused $75,000 for his small farm.

SANDHILLS ROAD GIVEN DRESSING

Bad Stretch of Highway Near Bonner Is Fixed By Volunteers.

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Aug. 1.—Nearly 100 good roads boosters from Alliance, Angora and Bridgeport, and the ranch country immediately surrounding Bonner, took part in "The Battle of Bonner" last Friday, when the seven-mile stretch of the North Star highway was given a dressing of clay and magnesia through the sandhill district.

Tourists and autoists enroute from Denver and from the Lincoln highway connection at Sidney to the Black Hills and eYllowstone park, have had difficulty in the past in getting through the sandy spots on the highway near Bonner.

The citizens of the three towns nearest the bad stretch of road determined to put an end to the difficulty and under the leadership of the Alliance chamber of Commerce organized the battle against bad roads.

A caravan of trucks and teams took part in hauling the dressing, which was placed over the sandy spots, while the soldiers were armed with shovels, spades and picks. Merchants, bankers, clerks, ranchmen and farmers, all volunteers, worked side by side throughout the hot day.

Yes, Wills White In Face By Time He Gets Fight With Dempsey

SETS UP PEGS FOR DEMPSEY-FIRPO

New York Commission Ready to Give Official O. K. to September Scrap.

Wills Up Against Fixed Jury and Stands No Chance to Get at Champion.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—Some fine day, when Harry Wills is ancient and ring-rusty and there isn't a remote chance that the honor of the white race will be impuned, there may be a bout between Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world. It isn't that Dempsey fears Wills he merely respects him.

Men have been known to show a reasonable amount of respect for a rattle snake even while they set about the business of exterminating it. Never go out of their way to meet the reptile, however. So it is with Dempsey.

New York state athletic commissions haven't anything against Wills. It isn't on record to this effect, yet. But the commission seemingly is pledged to a policy of buck-passing on the Wills issue and will continue to give him the "run around" until some remote time.

That time is not now. Therefore, it is ordained that Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey will not meet within a period of a year, if ever. By the same token, it is just as certain now that the champion will face Luis Firpo, September 14, as announced. Without committing itself about either case, the commission made the status of both perfectly clear yesterday.

No Public Demand Tex Says.

"I do not think there is a public demand for a Wills-Dempsey bout," said the eminent Mr. Rickard today. "However, I would be willing to promote such a bout next summer if I was sure it would be made to pay." Rickard may have the right idea at that. By next year, it is possible Wills will have aged sufficiently to render the bout acceptable from the view point of the commission. The negro has been out of the ring for six months and upon the occasion of his last appearance gave signs of physical deterioration when he failed to stop fifth-raters.

He has not faced a good man in more than fifteen months. In another year Harry Wills may reach the point where Jack Kearns himself will be willing to meet him, winner take all.

Fat Check Awaits Dempsey.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Harry Verner and Simon Flaherty, boxing promoters, today deposited with a bank a check for $50,000, which they said would be given to Jack Dempsey if he would meet Harry Wills for the heavyweight title before battling Luis Angel Firpo The promoters declared they had an option on an arena in Greater New York that would seat 90,000 persons.

Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, who visited the boxing commissioner yesterday to press Wills' right, under articles signed at the commission office fourteen months ago for the first chance at the title said he understood from conversation that there was no objection to a Wills-Dempsey match.

Dempsey has signed a contract with Rickard to meet Firpo and is certain to go through with it, so that Wills' only hope is for the commissioners to vote disapproval of Firpo as a fit opponent for the champion

It is understood, however, that no official objection to a Firpo-Dempsey bout will be raised.

FANS OF FAIRBURY TO HOIST PENNANT

Coyote Followers Prepare to Celebrate Winning of 1922 Gonfalon.

Thursday, August 2, is flag day at Fairbury and Owner Segrist and his Coyotes will flaunt the pennant which Fairbury captured at the end of the Nebraska league's championship race in 1922. Organized commercial interests and fans of Fairbury have planned to make the flag-raising a gala occasion and many of the business houses in the Jefferson county metropolis will close doors in celebrating the achievement of the Coyotes in winning the flag.

The Lincoln club will be the visiting team on flag-raising day and Secretary Moon of the Links announced today that he would accompany League President Grotte of Omaha to the Coyote camp.

Press reports from Beatrice, in which it was represented that the management of the Blues had been urged by President Grotte to transfer a State league series from Beatrice to the Western league park in Omaha, are discredited by the league executive. Over the long distance phone today, President Grotte asserted he had never suggested such a transfer to the Beatrice management.

President Grotte confirmed dispatches from Norfolk, in which it was proclaimed that the Elkhorns had protested the recent series with Hastings, when the Cubs knocked off the Elkhorns in three of the four games. The league executive intimated that he would not call a special meeting of directors to consider the protests, but might ask for a mail vote.

Norfolk Protests Trio of Defeats By Hastings Cubs

NORFOLK, Neb., Aug. 1.—Hastings made it three out of four from Norfolk yesterday by defeating the league leaders, 5 to 1. Norfolk's only score came from a home run by Clark. Errors by Rouse and Atherton lost the game for Norfolk. President Hulac of the Norfolk club last night wired League President Grotte of Omaha, giving notice that Norfolk would protest the three games won by Hastings. The protest is based on the allegation that the Hastings club is carrying more players than the league rule permits. The score.

ACCUSES KEARNS OF PLAYING FOX

Pilot of Tom Gibbons Asserts Firpo Too Green In Game to Tackle Champion.

(Associated Press.)

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 1.—Tommy Gibbons, who stayed fifteen rounds with Champion Jack Dempsey in the Fourth of July heavyweight battle at Shelby, Mont., is still looking for another chance at Dempsey's crown, according to statements by Gibbons and his manager, Eddie Kane, who are here.

Kane expressed disappointment that Luis Angel Firpo of Argentina had been given the September 14 date with Dempsey and believes he sees a clever move by the champion and his manager in taking on the improving Firpo before he reaches perfection as a boxer.

Gibbons Gathers Prestige.

A losing warrior usually gets nothing but the "razz" from the hoi polloi—and a chance to utter alibis.

But Tommy Gibbons is somebody different.

Never in the history of sportdom has a beaten gladiator ever gathered so much prestige, so much glory or so many chances to enrich himself as the fist wiggler from the wilds of St. Paul.

Jack Dempsey emerged from the battle smoke of Shelby a rather easy victor. But the glory and the praise and the laurels have been showered upon Gibbons because of the game fight he made, because of his splendid courage, and because this smaller, lighter man went 15 rounds with an "irresistible" world's champion—and was on his feet at the end.

No one who knows Gibbons feels other than happy that Tommy has come into his own; that he is being lauded and praised, and that ring riches, so long denied him, now seem within his grasp.

Never Big Money-Getter.

Gibbons never has been a big money earner. Through the years he has been regarded as a "cheap fighter." He fought his first fight in New York just about three seasons ago for $285. His other earnings for battles within and around the big town—with one exception—were not far beyond $1,000.

Perhaps the biggest money Gibbons ever got for any fight before the Shelby event was $12,500, which was his portion when he mixed it with Harry Greb. Contrast this money with sums like $15,000 paid to Johnny Dundee, $20,000 paid to Richie Mitchell, $123,000 to Jess Willard, $15,000 to Willie Jackson, $73,000 to Luis Firpo, $25,000 to Bill Brennan — all non-champions—and then the littleness of Gibbons' earnings becomes apparent.

Has Salted Snug Pile.

Fortunately for Gibbons, he has fought often, and even though he never got big money for any single fights, the accumulated purses have totalled rather well and Tommy probably will never need any benefit performances in the immediate future.

Through all the years that he has been connected with the game, Gibbons has been a credit to his profession. He takes pride in the fact that he is a boxer—resents it when men try to besmirch the sport. And by his clean living inside the ring and out of it he has done more to glorify it than any other man now identified with it.

Merited Reward in Sight.

The fact that Tommy Gibbons will earn around $40,000 doing a theatrical skit, that he has a chance to earn another $50,000 in movies and also that he may get two or three cracks at big money purses within the next years, brings gladness to those who know him. For it is their feeling:

"Tom's a mighty clean, square shooting kid, and whatever good luck he has from now on will be only a fair reward for the good he has done the boxing game."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.

Stock prices made brisk recovery from recent heaviness, in today's quiet session. Overnight improvement in the president's condition and publication of several favorable earnings reports had a favorable effect on sentiment and induced extensive short covering. Sales approximated 100,000 shares.

Marked improvement in President Harding's condition was partly responsible for the flood of buying orders which poured in today's stock market and gave opening prices a strong tone. Initial gains of 1 to nearly 2½ points were recorded by U. S. Steel, Crucible, Baldwin, American Locomotive, American Can, Studebaker and Pan-American. Heavy short covering operations were apparent from the start.

Prices reacted slightly when the overnight accumulation of buying orders had been absorbed, but net gains of 1 to 2 points were quite common at the end of the first half hour. United States Rubber, however, dropped nearly 2 points to a new low for the year. Foreign exchanges opened irregular.

The market stiffened again before noon, many active shares selling 1 to 3 points above yesterday's final prices. The unusually favorable earnings report made yesterday by United States Steel, Studebaker and American Locomotive attracted good buying power into these shares. The short interest in many stocks apparently had become unwieldy with covering operations resulting in some spirited gains. Gulf States Steel, Baldwin, Studebaker, Mack Truck and Stromsburg Carburetor rallied 2 to 3 points during the morning. Reports of impending cuts in tire prices resulted in heaviness in some of the rubber issues. Call money opened at 6 per cent, its renewal rate being equally (?) tour previous sessions this year.

Prices continued their upward course in the early afternoon, but trading was dull on the rally. Rubbers shook off their heaviness on denial of reports that tire cuts were impending. U. S. Steel was pushed up over 2 points to 87¾.

The closing was firm; trading continued dull in the late dealings with a number of the leaders receding fractionally from their high levels.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 1.

WHEAT—Unfavorable crop reports from the northwest led to a decided advance in the price of wheat today during the early dealings. There was a notable absence of selling pressure and the market responded quickly to commission house buying, which was generally assumed to be based on bullish crop estimates. A decline in quotations at Liverpool was virtually ignored. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c off to a like advance, with September 96⅝@96⅞c and December 99¾c@$1.00, was followed by a rapid upturn, about 2c in some cases.

Subsequently, the market was bullishly affected by strength in the stock market and in cotton, as well as by estimates that 1923 domestic yield of wheat would be 13,000,000 bushels less than the government's July forecast. The market closed firm, ⅞ to 1c to 1⅝c net higher, September 98¼@98½c, and December $1.01½@1.01⅝.

CORN—Scantiness of offerings gave firmness to corn and oats. Besides, the condition of the corn crop was estimated to have been reduced 2.6 points in July. After opening at ⅛c decline to ½c advance, September 76@76¼c, the corn market scored material general gains.

Reports of hot winds in Kansas tended to uphold the market later. Prices closed firm, ⅜ to 1⅛c net higher, September 77⅛@77¼c to 77¾.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher, September 34⅜@34⅞c. Later all the months showed good gains.

PROVISIONS—Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to the provision market.

KILLS BLACKBIRD AND PAYS FOR IT

Shelby Man Is Heavily Penalized For Violation of Game Law.

Many Others Disregard Statutes and Contribute to the Sate.

If you want to go out and shoot crows, that's all right; but be careful not to make a mistake and kill a blackbird, or one of the state's deputy game wardens will be likely to get you. Be it known that the blackbird is classed as a "song or insectivorous" bird and is protected by the law of Nebraska against destruction.

Matt Slatter of Shelby didn't know this. To find it out cost him $107.35. He was arrested for shooting a blackbird and paid a fine of $100, with costs.

This is one of a large number of prosecutions for violating the game and fish laws, recently reparted to Chief Game Warden Koster by his field men in various parts of the state.

Sixty dollars and costs was what Neil Dennis of Scottsbluff had to pay because he had particularly good luck when he went fishing. He caught more than the legal limit of twenty-five game fish and was yanked before a local magistrate by one of the law's watchful minions.

Walter S. Nordhorst, Pierce, wasn't satisfied to fish with hook and line, so he used a seine, without first getting a permit. Later he settled with the court by paying $90 fine and costs.

John Doe and Richard Roe have gone and got into trouble again at Fremont, along with John Richard Doe. They were fined $25 and costs apiece for seining with a trammel net. John Doe also paid $15 and costs at Ashland for having no license when he went fishing there.

Other violations, prosecutions and fines have been reported as follows:

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

A Smile or Two.

Dear Minerva: Now and then the newspapers contain an article almost funny enough to "make a wooden Indian laugh" and a smile or two will harm no one these warm, irritating days.

Recently we read that Mrs. Gatt, the American suffrage, had returned from abroad saying that: "The next war is now on in Europe." If a war is now in progress "over there" (and I am not disputing Mrs. Gatt on that point) then it is the present war. The "next war" will be a future event and can not be "going on" at the present time—can it? Marvelous, indeed are the uterances of Mrs. Gatt.

A few weeks back the newspapers told us that missionaries returning from Africa were amazed and horrified to find that American girls and women were slipping back into a state of degeneracy worse than that of the savages of the dark continent. The next paragraph told us that these missionaries at one of their meetings wanted their number augumented and fifty-thousand dollars additional funds for extending their work among the natives of darkest Africa. If their own countrywomen are in such a deplorable condition as they claim to have found them in then it is clearly evident that there is plenty of work for them to do right here without wandering so far afield for does not "charity begin at home?" And how can we expect the Zulus and the Hottentots to take kindly to our efforts to set their house in order when our own is so badly upset?

I am not opposed to sending missionaries to Africa or any other place that needs them but I confess to being a disciple of the doctrine of "See America First" not altogether from a scenic standpoint but as to its needs, betterment, etc.

Of course, the idea that American women are going backwards is all pure bunk. I do not believe it, you who read this do not believe it; furthermore, the returning missionaries do not believe it either. The modern reformer is an alarmist and above everything else a sensation seeker. Its as dear to his heart as beer is to a German. He has it for breakfast, luncheon and dinner and always gets a kick out of it and at any reform pow-wow sensation is always as thick as gossip at a country quilting party. The fact that his utterances often savor of the Satan rebuking sin, the kettle calling the pot black line of talk never seems to occur to these loquacious individuals, consequently they talk on and on and often get rather tangled up and make some rather reckless statements sometimes.

In these very progressive times you may acquire almost any kind of knowledge you desire at a distance but as yet I have failed to find a correspondence school that offers a course in consistency and truth telling. No doubt some one of these progressive institutions will sooner or later arise to the emergency and offer such a course and by filling this long-felt want will become not only a great public benefactor but will succeed in covering itself with gold as well as with glory, and when that happy day arrives then our far-wandering reformers can improve their spare moments, when not busily engaged in salvaging dusky souls, by acquiring a few of those homely but nevertheless much admired virtues of their honorable but less spectacular countrymen. WAGE.

Deeper than a Whip.

Dear Minerva: It's rather late in the evening to begin a letter but if I don't write this evening I don't know when I can and I do want to say a few words about the problem of whipping children.

I for one am opposed to whipping children. I think there are so many other ways to punish them, ways that will help more than beating their flesh. I think it's wicked to be forever threatening a child this way. "Now Johnny you'll get a good sound thrashing if you don't do this or that." How much nicer it is to say "Now dear if you'll promise to be a good boy and do what mother wants you to do, I'll give you something nice," etc.

How much more willing a child will be to obey if it is expecting a reward for its efforts. If a child must always be licing in fear of being whipped it will grow hateful and careless and think "Oh what's the use; I'll get it any way, might as well do as I please."

I believe in encouraging a child and overlooking some of its faults to a certain extent. How would we feel if every time we made a mistake or did something rash that we really regret if someone would gram us and give us a "good sound thrashing." How much more willing we are to try over again if someone gives us a kind word, a word of hope if we realize that someone has confidence in us aren't we more willing to try harder to do right? Surely we are. How good it makes us feel when someone gives us an occasional compliment. Don't we try harder than ever to live up to the good things that are said about us? But when we are always criticised and no one seems to think we amount to anything we give up trying. Children are just the same way. They believe everything—simple but they believe it. A mother teaches her child to speak, she places in its mind its first small bit of knowledge and if a mother goes about this in the right way, always being cheerful and patient and loving the child will respect her more for it as long as it lives.

So many parents don't practice what they preach and then expect their children to do good. Some people try to make their children believe that they know everything best. Well if a child then hears her mother gossip or hears the father swear, don't you think it will feel as though it has a right to do likewise? Yet the parents will punish a child for what they themselves do.

I read an article in a current magazine about 'Henry Ford Talks About His Mother." When Mr. Ford was asked if his mother ever whipped him he answered "No, but she punished me; shame cuts deeper than a whip." This mother impressed her son far more by her patient words than she ever could have if she'd spanked him for every wrong he committed. I think the great majority of great men and women were not whipped as children but were taught what was right and wrong from the time they could think and talk and play.

The trouble lies with the parents and not with the children. The parents are all too busy to be bothered with their children. Being a Sunday school teacher I know this to be the truth. The children are sent to Sunday school often because of habit and often to have them out of their way, and they come to class and don't know a word about their lesson and don't care to know. Papa or mamma don't care either. Of course this requires patience and hard work from the teacher but we want those children to become interested in Christ and in living right. But how hard it is when there is no co-operation from the parents.

If God ever considers me worthy to have children I will take everyone He sends me as He sends them and if He sends me a dozen I know he will supply me with the strength and endurance I'd need to raise them. He never gives us too much if we only put system into our lives. But so many of us lag around and do as little as we can and try to escape hard work and suffering. We all have our sufferings but if we rely upon God and trust Him we'll come out all right if we aren't afraid of the truth.

Well as I was saying, if I ever have children I'll teach them the Golden Rule "Do ye unto others as ye would have others do unto you." I would teach them that God has created us and made us in His image and we should therefore try to live just as pure and sweet a life as is in our power. Our bodies are clean when given to us and we should keep them so until He again claim them. I would try to be just as patient and to set a good example as I could for my children and I would never tell them not to do something which I myself did. I would be honest with them and not try to fool them as so many parents try to do. I would never break a promise to them if I could help it. And I'd never spank them if I could apply better means of making them sorry for their misdemeanors. As soon as the children were old enough to understand I'd give them an allowance of a small amount to commence with and raise it with increasing age. This allowance would be to cover all minor expenses at school, to pay for treats such as candy, and a part of it to be saved and to pay for Sunday school and missionary offerings, and if they wanted to give their playmates a birthday or Christmas present or valentine. I would teach them to deal wisely and save and if it were only a penny a week, but also to be generous.

I don't think many girls would be happy in all the luxuries Scotch Bachelor proposed for her. I think one is happier in service for others than to always be served. When my working days are over then I want to pass on, but as long as I live I want to work and spread cheer and help and hope and I don't want to be petted around and babied all the time. I don't think life would be worth living if I were to live it for myself alone. I want to live to serve so that when my work is done on earth that it may have been worth while. I think nearly all girls, sensible ones, would feel as I do.

FILED CLAIM FOR REASONABLE FEE

Attorney C. M. Skiles Says Did Not Sue for Services in Griggs Case.

Won Judgment After Long Fight and Collected $50,000 for Client.

C. M. Skiles says the article in Tuesday evening's Star with reference to his claim for attorney's fee against the Griggs estate, was misleading. He says he did not sue anybody for a fee: When he was employed by the guardian, the principal part of the estate was some stock in the Nebraska Building & Investmen company. He then began suit to recover about $40,000 invested in said company. He was almost constantly engaged in litigation in district, supreme and federal courts for three years and finally secured judgment and collected in cash the sum of $50,045.72.

He said:

"The stockholders that did not sue or who sued too late will not get to exceed five or ten cents on the dollar and more probably nothing. The litigation is still pending in bankruptcy court, and even those who have judgments may have to wait for an indefinite time to realize anything. Mr. Skiles says by skillful negotiation he was able to assign and sell this judgment and collect same in full with interest to date, and that the contingent fee asked, considering the long litigation of three years and the successful results in collecting in full, is considered a very reasonable fee."

He says every dollar collected was turned over to the guardian and he filed claim in county court in the regular way and asked the court to allow a reasonable fee and to appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the incompetent person and that no fee be allowed except by approval of the court.

"Most of the stockholders would be glad to give any attorney one-half of any amount that could be collected from this company in view of the long and expensive litigation and the uncertaint of any substantial results. This Griggs' judgment, the largest judgment ever recovered here in district court, is the only judgment that has been collected against this company.

"After paying the reasonable attorney fee asked for, the guardian will still have left the entire principal invested in said company, the attorney fee being merely the accumulated interest."

Have Authority to Remove Signs Deemed Confusing

DES MOINES, Aug. 1.—Supervisors in Iowa counties have authority to remove from the highways all signs erected for advertising purposes that are so arranged as to confuse motorists, according to an informal opinion by Attorney General Gibson, made public today.

Numerous signs bearing the words "stop" and "danger" have been erected for advertising purposes, some of them being so worded as to cause delay to automobilists seeking road markers.

Manila Advised Amoy In Control Northern Chinese

MANILA, Aug. 1—Northern Chinese cruisers captured Amoy yesterday, landing troops, said a private cable received here today from Amoy, China. "All work suspended and no boats crossing the harbor. Situation very bad," it added.

Another private message said: "Owing to fighting of the Chinese contending forces, communication with Kulangau has been cut off. The customs house has stopped work and business offices are closed."
